Whether you are a native to Harrisonburg or are in the process of relocating to this area, Old Dominion Realty will help define your needs, deal with any obstacles and aggressively seek results.

Company History

Old Dominion Realty was founded in 1962 by Clyde Pugh as a general real estate sales and residential construction business. The original office was located in Bridgewater and was relocated to 2340 South Main Street, Harrisonburg in 1972 where it remains today. Currently, the company has grown to approximately 60 sales agents, and maintains a large portion of the Harrisonburg Real Estate Market.
